RESURRECTING THE JEW: NATIONALISM, PHILOSEMITISM AND POLAND'S JEWISH REVIVAL

Dr. Genevieve Zubrisky

ZOOM

TUESDAYS, 7 - 8:30 PM

Nov. 1, 8

Since the early 2000s, Poland has experienced a remarkable Jewish revival, largely driven by non-Jewish Poles with a passionate interest in all things Jewish. Klezmer music, Jewish-style restaurants and Jewish festivals have become popular, while new museums, memorials, Jewish studies programs, and Holocaust research centers reflect soul-searching about Polish-Jewish relations before, during and after the Holocaust. What does it mean to try to bring Jewish culture back to life in a country where three million Jews were murdered and where only about 10,000 Jews now live?

Lecture 1: The fate of Jews who survived the Holocaust and remained in Communist Poland; the revival of Jewish communities after the fall of communism; recovery of Jewish identity by the third post-Holocaust generation and the support of international Jewish organizations.

Lecture 2: The world of non-Jewish Poles who are actively resurrecting Jewish culture in today's Poland. Who are they and why are they committed to this project? What is the relationship between the revival of Jewish communal life and the resurrection of Jewish culture by non-Jews?

THE UNCHANTED SCROLL: THE BOOK OF JOB IN OUR WORLD

Rabbi Aaron Bergman

ZOOM

WEDNESDAYS, NOON – 1:30 PM

Oct. 26; Nov. 2, 9, 16

The Book of Job is never chanted during synagogue services, but remains a part of the Tanakh, and is never more relevant than today. It confronts losses that seem to have no meaning, a world that feels chaotic and a God that feels so distant. Despite dealing with tragedy, The Book of Job is ultimately healing and hopeful. We will look at the book itself, including its structure, history and path to acceptance into the Hebrew Bible, as well as commentaries from the Middle Ages to its influence on Kafka and modern Jewish poets. The Book of Job provides comfort, but it requires going through a path of deep introspection and speaking truth to power, even to God.

We will conclude by discussing the strain on these relationships since the end of the 1960s, and efforts by both communities to mend this relationship and rediscover the camaraderie of earlier decades.
